

our commissary general and judge for probate of wills &c. at our prerogative court to be held at the city of Annapolis, on the second Tuesday of                    then next, to answer unto us as well touching a certain contempt by him against us committed, in not obeying the former process of our said court, as to shew cause why he did not &c.

You did then return to our said judge, that you had taken the body of the said C. D. and that he was detained in your prison, under your custody at the county aforesaid, but so sick and languishing, that without great danger of death you could not have his body then before our said judge, as by the said writ you was commanded; and whereas it was testified in our said court by worthy testimony, that the aforesaid C. D. is found and in health, and able to travel, we do therefore command you that you bring the body of the said C. D. with you, whether he be in health or infirm, before our said judge at our said court, to be held at the city of Annapolis, on the second Tuesday of                    next, to shew cause and answer as aforesaid: hereof fail not at your peril, and have you then and there this writ. Witness &c.
