Secondly. Upon complaint made on oath, of male-administration; or upon conviction of fraud or covin.

In this case, letters so granted are to be revoked, and letters of administration de bonis non issued, to any person having a right thereto, which second administrator is to call the first to an account of his administration, by citation before the commissary-general, or, in case the offence be of a higher nature, by putting his bond in suit. It is his duty to see, that wrongs done by the former administrator be redressed, and intended frauds prevented, to amend the inventory and accounts accordingly, and to strike a new balance for a foundation of his future administration.

O F

TEMPORARY ADMINISTRATIONS,

There are three sorts of temporary administrations, necessary to be treated of in this place; the which, altho' out of the statute, yet are grantable by law.
