

the answer is not to effect the validity of any commission or of the proceedings under such commission—1820, ch. 161, sec. 3, . . . 732

A bill of revivor unnecessary to be filed on the death of any of the parties in a suit in chancery, but the legal representatives of the party dying may come in, and on proof of the death be admitted a party to the suit—1820, ch. 161, sec. 4, . . . 733

When the representative fails to appear within the first four days of the term next, after the death, the opposite party may suggest in writing the death, and procure a summons for the representative if he be a resident, or an order of publication if he be out of the state—1820, ch. 161, sec. 5, . . . 733

On service of the summons or proof of publication and failure of the party to appear, the court may order an appearance to be entered for the party—1820, ch. 161, sec. 6, . . . 734

In cases where new parties are made they may deny the matter alleged—1820, ch. 161, sec. 7, . . . 734

In deciding on exceptions the court may award costs—1820, ch. 161, sec. 8, . . . 734

A supplement to the act to direct the mode of collecting the several taxes imposed on the proceedings in the court of chancery—1820, ch. 204, . . . 764

Appeals from the chancery court, where the parties reside on the eastern shore, to be made to the court of appeals of that shore—1621, ch. 125, . . . 766

Register in chancery or the clerk of the county court, to issue a new commission—1822, ch. 48, sec. 2, . . . 780

Oath to be taken by the commissioners before a justice of the peace—1822, ch. 48, sec. 2, . . . 780

Such commissioners to have the same powers, &c. as the commissioners first appointed—1822, ch. 48, sec. 1, . . . 780

So much of the act of 1821, as requires the chief judge of the third judicial district to act in cases in which the chancellor cannot conscientiously act, repealed—1822, ch. 107, . . . 782

Proceedings directed (after summons) to compel the attendance of witnesses, before commissioners or auditors appointed by chancery or the county courts, setting as courts of equity—1824, ch. 133, . . . 809

In appeals from the court of chancery or any county court setting as a court of equity in which accounts have been stated, no exceptions to such accounts shall be permitted in the court of appeals which were not made in the court below—1825, ch. 117, sec. 2, . . . 833

May approve of appeal of writ of error bonds, and require new sureties, &c.—1826, ch. 200, . . . 884

See Appeal Bonds.

On appeals prayed, chancellor to prescribe the penalty of the bond and approve the security—1830, ch. 185, sec. 1, . . . 1007

In cases where the names of all the complainants do not appear, or where from the number it is inexpedient to make them obligees in