

COURT.]	PUBLIC GENERAL LAW.	2753
		Page.
The form thereof and the power conferred therein—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 14, sec. 2,		382
The qualifications of an administrator to be the same as those of an executor—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 5, sec. 1,		382
If the intestate be a married woman, her husband need not take out letters—1798, ch. 101, sub. ch. 5, sec. 8,		384
If he does not reduce her choses in action, into possession, or obtain judgment, they shall survive to her representatives—1798, ch. 101, sub. ch. 5, sec. 8,		384
Who are entitled to letters of administration, and the order of priority—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 5, sec. 10,		384
When creditors are entitled—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 5, sec. 22,		385
When they may be granted at the discretion of the court—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 5, sec. 23,		385
When to a residuary legatee—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 5, sec. 24,		385
Letters of administration may be granted to two or more—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 5, sec. 25,		385
Where validity of will is contested and letters of administration may be granted to the persons named as executors—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 6, sec. 1,		386

WHEN LETTERS AD COLLIGENDUM MAY BE GRANTED.

Letters ad colligendum may be granted during the absence of an executor, during a contest as to administration, during a contested will or codicil, or of the negligence of any person entitled to administration to take letters—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 3, sec. 14,	376
The form of the letters, and the form of the bond, and his oath—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 3, sec. 15, 16, 17,	376
His duties and commission to be allowed—1798, ch. 101, sub. ch. 3, sec. 18,	380
On granting letters testamentary, collector's power to cease—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 3, sec. 20,	380
Authorized to sue and recover debts—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 3, sec. 18,	380
If his letters are revoked, pendente lite, the representative of the estate may appear and prosecute—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 3, sec. 18,*	380
See title ' Orphans Court ,' post. as to the means entrusted to the orphans court to enforce their jurisdiction against them.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.—Letters granted there.

Persons to whom letters testamentary or of administration have been granted in the District, may maintain suits as administrators or executors in the courts of this state—1813, ch. 165,	623
---	-----

ADMINISTRATORS AND EXECUTORS.

Must return within fifteen calendar months a full account of administration—1798, ch. 101, sub ch. 8, sec. 1,	389
Must return first account within twelve months—1831, ch. 315,	1058

* See 1802, ch. 101.