CHAPTER 55.

AN ACT concerning the Chancery Court.

A Supplement, 1811, ch. 189.

See 1785, ch. 72, ante page 208.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, by the General Assembly of Maryland, Chief judge of third judicial district to hear and determine certain suits. That in any suit in the chancery court in which the chancellor for the time being may have been counsel, or have given his opinion, and on that account may conceive that he cannot conscientiously act thereon, and shall so certify in writing, the same shall be heard and determined by the chief judge of the third judicial district, or by the court thereof, at the election of the complainant, and all interlocutory and other orders in such cases shall be made by the said chief judge, which determinations and orders shall have the same effect as if made by the chancellor, and such decree shall be subject to appeal in like manner.

See 1805, ch. 65, sec. 19, ante page 500.

The same advantages given to the respondent by 1811, ch. 189.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, Chancellor may require his opinion on any point of law, &c. That the chancellor may require the opinion of the chief judge of the said district on any question of law which may arise in any suit in chancery, and in which, according to the usual practice, such opinion may be thought necessary; and that it shall be the duty of the said chief judge to express, in writing, such opinion; Provided, Proviso. that in case of such opinion being given, or in the case of any decree or order made by the said chief judge, or by the court, he being sitting therein, the said chief judge shall withdraw from the bench upon the deciding of the same case before the court of appeals.
