

CHAPTER 209.

A further SUPPLEMENT to the ACT, entitled, an Act for the preservation of the breed of Fish.

Preamble. WHEREAS, it is represented to this general assembly, that some person or persons unknown are in the habit of erecting fish pots in the Susquehanna river not constructed according to the provisions of the different acts and supplementary acts on this subject, by which means the young shad are destroyed, and the owners not known,

Owners of fish pots to notify constables, &c.

Be it enacted, by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the owner or owners of every fish pot in the river Susquehanna, shall, in the month of August every year, notify the two several constables that may be appointed to examine the pots, that he, she or they are the owner or owners of such pot, describing the same in such manner that the said constables may know them, and in case any pot shall be erected after the month of August in any year, and during the fishing season, the owner or owners of such pot shall give notice thereof to the said constables immediately, and in case any constable appointed as aforesaid shall find a fish pot erected in the said river constructed in such manner as to destroy the young shad, and contrary to the provisions of the several laws on this subject, that then and in that case such constable shall cut down or otherwise destroy such pot.

CHAPTER 217.

A further additional SUPPLEMENT to an ACT, entitled, an Act to establish and incorporate a Medical and Chirurgical Faculty or Society in the State of Maryland.

By 1838, ch. 281, it is permitted to every person being a citizen of this state to practice medicine and receive compensation for their medicines and services, in the same manner as physicians are now permitted to do. This provision annuls all the restrictions heretofore interposed by the original act and its several supplements.

CHAPTER 218.

AN ACT concerning the Chancery Court.

Chancellor being interested, &c.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That in all cases where the chancellor is or may be interested in any cause now or that hereafter may be depending in the court of chancery, and in all cases in which the chancellor may have been counsel or have given his opinion, and on that account may conceive that he cannot conscientiously act thereon, and shall so certify in writing to the chief judge of the third judicial district, or any one of the associate judges thereof, the same shall be heard and determined by such judge, or by the court thereof, at the election of the complainant or respondent, and
