

veyor, in Cecil county. There are several other proceedings in the said journal, in which this statute is referred to, with the others concerning trade, &c.

CHAP. 19. An act to prevent concealments of his majesty's customs and subsidies.

See the notes above.

13 and 14 Charles 2.—A. D. 1662.

CHAP. 1. An act for preventing the mischiefs and dangers that may arise by certain persons called quakers, and others refusing to take lawful oaths.

See the note on 3 James 1, Ch. 4. This was one of the statutes mentioned in the toleration act; but it was of course subject to the operation of the statute 7 and 8 W. 3, Ch. 34, as to affirmations.

CHAP. 4. An act for the uniformity of public prayers, and administration of sacraments, and other rites and ceremonies; and for establishing the form of making, ordaining, and consecrating bishops, priests and deacons, in the church of England.

See the note above. This statute also was mentioned in the toleration act.

CHAP. 11. An act for preventing frauds, and regulating abuses, in his majesty's customs.

See the note on 12 Charles 2, Ch. 18. This statute is referred to with others in the council proceedings in 1697, as follows: "Orders and instructions to be observed by F. Nicholson, governor of Maryland, in pursuance of several laws relating to the trade and navigation of the kingdom of Great Britain, and the colonies and plantations in America. You shall inform yourself of the principal laws relating to the plantation trade, viz. 12 Car. 2; the act for preventing frauds, &c. 14 Car. 2; the act for the encouragement of trade, 15 Car. 2; the act for regulating the plantation trade, 22 and 23 Car. 2; the act for encouragement of the Eastland trade, &c. 25 Car. 2; and the acts for preventing frauds, 7 and 8 W. 3, all which laws you will hereby receive."

15 Charles 2.—A. D. 1663.

CHAP. 6. An act for the relief of such persons as by sickness or other impediment, were disabled from subscribing the declaration in the act of uniformity; and explanation of part of the said act.

See the note on 13 and 14 Charles 2, Ch. 4.

CHAP. 7. An act for the encouragement of trade.

See the notes on 12 Charles 2, Ch. 18, and 13 and 14 Charles 2, Ch. 11.
