

appeal shall give bond, with security, to indemnify the other party from all loss and injury which said party may sustain by reason of such appeal, and the staying the operation of such order; such bond to be approved by the judge or clerk of the court where the proceedings are pending; and upon giving such bond, the appeal shall stay the operation of all such orders, in the same manner as appeals do from final decrees.

24. In case a party intends, on an appeal from the final decree or order in the case, to dispute any previous order, and desires to stay the operation of such order, he shall state his intention to dispute the same, in writing, to be filed with the clerk, and shall give bond in such penalty as the court may prescribe, with security to be approved by the court or the clerk, to indemnify the other party from all loss and injury which such party may sustain by reason of the staying the operation of such order.

25. In all cases where a judge of a court of equity shall refuse to grant an injunction, he shall certify in the form of an order his refusal to do so, from which order and refusal the party applying for the injunction shall have a right to appeal, and the clerk of the court shall forthwith transmit the original papers comprising the bill or petition and exhibits, and the court's order of refusal, to the Court of Appeals, and the said court shall hear and determine said appeal immediately on the application of the applicant, and if they reverse the said order they shall remand the case with the original papers, and order the court to grant an injunction in conformity with their decision.

26. On an appeal from a court of equity, no objection to the competency of witnesses or the admissibility of evidence, or to the sufficiency of the averments of the bill or petition, shall be made in the Court of Appeals, unless it appear by the record that such objection has been made by exceptions filed in the court of equity.

27. No defendant to a suit in equity in which an appeal may be taken, shall make any objections to the jurisdiction of the court below, unless it shall appear by the record that such objection was made in said court.

28. If it shall appear or be shown to the Court of Appeals that
