

8. If, upon the rejection of any applicant for admission to practice law in any Circuit Court in this State, or in the Superior Court of Baltimore city, such applicant shall deem himself aggrieved by such rejection, he may apply to the Court of Appeals for admission to practice law in said court, who shall examine such applicant as to his qualifications, character and time of studying, in manner and subject to the regulation hereinbefore provided as to such examination; and if, upon such examination, the Court of Appeals shall determine that the applicant ought to be admitted to practice in the Court of Appeals, he shall be admitted accordingly; and such admission shall entitle him to admission to practice in any court of this State.

9. The Criminal Court of Baltimore and the Court of Common Pleas may admit attorneys to practice in their respective courts, but such admission shall not authorize the attorney to practice in any other court.

10. Every attorney or other practitioner of law shall take and subscribe an oath that he will demean himself fairly and honorably.

11. The judges of the several courts of this State shall observe the demeanor of all attorneys practicing the law before them, who shall use any indecent liberties to the lessening the grandeur and authority of their respective courts, and shall discountenance and punish the same according to the nature of the offense, either by suspending such attorney from his practice perpetually, or for a time, or by fine (at the discretion of the court) not exceeding fifty dollars for any one offense.

12. Any attorney who, by his negligence in bringing a cause to a decision within the time limited by law, shall suffer such cause to be discontinued, shall forfeit the sum of one hundred dollars, and all costs of suit accrued on any action discontinued by his default; one-half to the party grieved, and the other half to the State, for the use and benefit of the county where such fines arise.

13. The several courts of this State may, in their discretion, where it shall appear to them that any plaintiff or defendant in any action brought in said courts shall suffer by the negligence or omission of the attorney, immediately adjudge such attorney to
