ARTICLE LXXXIV.

Schools.

SEC. 1. The several schools, academies and colleges shall respectively receive the donations granted to them by laws or resolutions existing at the time of the adoption of this code, and where in any county the donation payable to any schools, academies or colleges in such county, has been added to the common school fund, it shall be payable as directed by the sixth section of this article.

2. Every school, academy or college that receives a donation in money from the State, shall afford tuition in all the branches of learning taught in such school, and books, free of any charge, to at least one poor child for every hundred dollars that such school, academy or college receives from the State.

3. The trustees of each school, academy or college receiving a donation in money from the State, shall select the number of children to be educated under the preceding section from among the poor children of the county to which such school, academy or college belongs, having due regard to the pecuniary situation of the persons so selected.

4. The trustees of the several schools, academies and colleges which receive donations from the State, shall report to the Comptroller, on or before the twentieth day of January in each year, an accurate account of their proceedings, together with the condition of their several institutions, and setting forth therein the number of poor children educated therein; and every school, academy or college which shall, after having been required so
