

will be insufficient to discharge the just debts of and claims against the deceased, discharge all just claims known to him or pay each claimant his just proportion of the money then in his hands (retaining as herein directed;) it shall likewise be his duty once in every term of six months after the first distribution, to make a distribution of the money which hath since come to his hands, until he shall have fully administered, and on failure, his administration bond may be put in suit.

103. In all cases where an administrator is to make payment of distribution amongst the creditors of his decedent, he may give notice three successive weeks previously in some convenient newspaper, of the time and place for making it, and in case the creditor shall not attend in person or by agent or attorney to receive the amount or proportionable part of his claim, all interest on such claim, or proportionable part, shall cease from that time; Provided, that the administrator shall at any time thereafter, on demand, pay the said claim or proportionable part to the party, his agent or attorney duly authorized; and whenever the administrator shall proceed to make an additional payment or dividend, he may advertise as aforesaid, and interest shall stop as aforesaid; and if, at any additional dividend, a just claim, established as hereinbefore directed, shall be exhibited, the creditor shall be entitled to such sum as will place him on an equal footing with those who have already received a dividend.

104. It shall be the duty of an administrator to pay all just claims against his decedent, exhibited to him, or a just proportionable part thereof, according to the assets; and if any claim be known to him (although the same be not exhibited) he shall retain the same, or a just proportionable part for the benefit of the creditor, provided he can satisfy the court, that such claim is just, or may probably be recovered; and when it is certain that there is a claim of a person out of the State, but the amount thereof cannot be ascertained, the court may allow such sum as it may think proper to be retained, to be accounted for, nevertheless, if within three years after the death of the deceased no demand shall be made by the creditor or his representatives, and suit brought on the rejection thereof by the administrator, and from the time of making payment to, or dividend amongst the creditors as herein directed, all interest on such claim or proportionable part thereof shall cease; Provided, that the administrator shall pay or tender the same, together
