

not be transferred except by order of the court, and any transfer without such order shall be void.

46. No part of the principal arising from such sale of any real estate shall be applied to the maintenance of any infant, unless the court shall consider it necessary and order the same to be done.

47. Where an infant is seized of a reversion dependent upon a life estate, the court may, with the assent of the tenant for life, decree a sale thereof, and order the annual interest, or such part thereof as may be deemed equitable, to be paid to the tenant for life during his life.

48. Upon the death of such infant under age, intestate and without issue, the proceeds of such sale shall descend or be distributed, as the property or estate would if it had not been sold.

49. In all cases the court shall tax as part of the costs in the case a reasonable compensation and allowance to any commissioner for taking the answer of any infant in said cases.

50. If any person shall secrete an infant against whom process has issued, so as to prevent the service of such process, such person shall be liable to attachment and punishment as for contempt; or if any infant secretes himself or evades the service of process, he may be proceeded against as if he were a non-resident infant.

INJUNCTION.

51. If any person against whom an injunction to stay waste has issued, shall at any time after the service thereof commit any waste on the premises, or with his consent suffer any to be committed in disobedience of such injunction, on proof of such waste by affidavit or otherwise, the court may issue an attachment for contempt against him and punish him by imprisonment or fine, or both.

52. On complaint to the court of any disobedience of an injunction as aforesaid, the court shall ascertain the value of the damage done by such waste by affidavit or other proofs, either before or after the attachment or imprisonment mentioned in the preceding section, and may order the offender to pay double the value of the damages so ascertained, and may enforce a compliance with such order by an attachment for contempt or by fieri facias.
