

shall appoint three disinterested parties, who shall be landholders and residents of Baltimore county, and who shall have power to value and assess the damages, if any, sustained by the owners or owner of the land over which they may locate said street, taking into consideration the advantages, as well as the disadvantages, that may result to the owner or owners of said land; and to cause the same to be surveyed by the county surveyor of Baltimore county, and a plat made thereof; together with the valuation of the damages, if any, to the landholders as aforesaid, and the expense attending the execution of the opening or extending the line of any street, to be returned to the county commissioners; and the said damages and expenses attendant thereon shall be levied and assessed upon the property through which said street may be opened, and to be collected as the taxes of said county ordinarily are; and any persons considering themselves aggrieved by the proceedings and return made to the said commissioners, may object to the ratification thereof before the county commissioners of said county; and when ratified and confirmed by the said county commissioners, and not until then, it shall be filed and recorded among the public records of Baltimore county.

157*. After the survey of the street or streets to be opened or extended are made, and the damages have been assessed, the plat or plats and other proceedings in relation to the same, shall be laid before the said county commissioners, within thirty days after the completion of the same, and the said county commissioners shall not act thereon without having given public notice by advertisement, at least once a week for three successive weeks, in two newspapers, one published in Baltimore county and the other in the city of Baltimore, that said plats and proceedings had been returned to the office of the said county commissioners and would be acted on by some certain day to be named in said advertisement.

SCHOOLS.

158. The voters of each election district in Baltimore county shall at each general election for delegates in said county, elect one suitable person, a resident of said district, to act as school commissioner for the district for the term of two years thereafter, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified.

159. Such election shall be conducted in all respects according to the provisions of the laws regulating elections in this State,
