

law, and shall also pay to the Treasurer of Maryland the sum of four hundred and fifty dollars as a license fee.

95. Any auctioneer paying the license fee and executing the bond prescribed in the last foregoing section may make sales of every description of goods, wares and merchandise of every kind, and real estate, and may exercise all the rights and privileges of a general auctioneer, to the extent and amount of the sum prescribed in said section, and he shall make, under oath, quarterly returns to the Comptroller, showing the full amount of his sales of every kind, distinguishing his sales of goods, wares and merchandise, and personal effects of every kind, from his sales of real estate and houses; and if any auctioneer under said license shall sell any amount exceeding the sum named in the last preceding section, he shall be subject to all the penalties hereinafter imposed upon auctioneers who shall sell without license.

96. Each auctioneer so appointed whose sales of goods, wares and merchandise, and personal effects of every kind, exclusive of his real estate sales and sales of houses, shall exceed the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, enter into a recognizance to the State, with two sufficient securities in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned as hereinbefore prescribed, and shall pay to the Treasurer the sum of seven hundred and fifty dollars as a license fee.

97. If any person so appointed shall desire to pursue the business of an auctioneer for the sole purpose of selling books, maps or prints, by day or by night, he shall be entitled to do so by first entering into a recognizance to the State, with two sufficient securities in the penalty of five thousand dollars, conditioned as hereinbefore prescribed, and by paying to the Treasurer the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars.

98. If any person so appointed shall desire to pursue the business of an auctioneer for the sole purpose of vending horses and carriages, he shall be entitled to do so by first entering into a recognizance to the State with two sufficient securities in the sum of one thousand dollars, and paying to the Treasurer the sum of fifty dollars as a license fee.
