

291. No license shall authorize any inspector of coal to act as such without the limits of the city.

292. Any person not having a license, who shall act as inspector of coal, or who having a license shall act as such inspector without the limits of the city, shall forfeit and pay to the sheriff of the city the sum of two hundred dollars; said penalty to be imposed as a fine by the Criminal Court on presentment or indictment by the grand jury and conviction in due course of law; and one-third of the penalty shall be paid by the sheriff to the informer, and the residue shall be accounted for by the sheriff to the treasury as other fines.

FISH.

293. The Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall biennially appoint three inspectors of salted fish in the city of Baltimore, one of whom shall be styled the chief inspector and the others sub-inspectors.

294. Each inspector shall enter into bond to the State of Maryland, with good and sufficient securities to be approved of and retained by the Treasurer, in the penal sum of two hundred dollars, conditioned for the true and faithful discharge of his duties as inspector.

295. It shall be the duty of the chief inspector diligently to superintend, aid and assist the sub-inspectors when engaged in the discharge of their official duties.

296. It shall be the duty of each sub-inspector promptly to obey any notice he may receive requiring his attendance in any place in said city, and should either of them refuse to attend after receiving such notice for more than the space of two hours, he shall be liable to a fine of ten dollars.

297. If any sub-inspector shall neglect his duty by wilfully absenting himself therefrom, unless by permission of the chief inspector, such sub-inspector so absenting himself, except by permission of the chief inspector, shall, during and for the time of his absence, receive no compensation.

298. If the chief inspector shall, upon a careful and impartial examination, be satisfied that a sub-inspector has either wilfully
