

to their owner or his agent, making such allowance in the nature of tare on account of any dirt, mud, filth, or other matter adhering to the same, as he may think just and proper.

462. He shall charge and collect for the use of the State for the first time of weighing any live stock, except sheep, required by this article to be weighed, two cents for every hundred weight, and one cent per head for every sheep; for every second and subsequent weighing, for cattle and hogs, two cents for every thousand weight, and sheep one cent for every thousand weight; and all live stock not required to be weighed, the sum of six cents for every thousand weight.

463. He shall keep a full record of all weights as contained and determined by him, of what and for whom the same may be so ascertained and determined, and of all moneys by him received as weighmaster, and of all expenditures and disbursements, in books to be provided by him for that purpose, which books shall belong to the State, and shall at all times be subject to the inspection and order of the Comptroller.

464. He shall within the first five days of every month, upon his oath taken before a justice of the peace for said city, make a full statement of all receipts for weighing, and from whom received, and of all disbursements by him made, to the Comptroller, and shall pay over to said Comptroller all balances that may be in his hands.

465. He shall number the pens or yards under his care used for receiving live stock, and shall mark in conspicuous places on the fences or gates thereof, in legible figures, the number of cattle, hogs or sheep, the said pens or yards will respectively contain.

466. He shall, when receiving any live stock for weighing or exposure for sale, put the same into pens or yards the nearest in capacity to contain the respective droves of the different owners thereof, and shall in no case divide and put portions of the same drove into different pens or yards, unless such division be actually necessary for the accommodation of the same, or to effect a division of such droves among the different owners thereof.

467. He shall keep the pens, yards and live stock scales in good repair, but shall have no power to change the arrangement of the same, except to divide any one of the pens or yards into
