

brigade courts of appeal respectively, before or during the sitting of the same, the brigadier general of his regiment if absent, and also such of his staff officers as are absent from the division review, and the senior officer in rank on parade shall, in like manner, ascertain and report the major general if absent, and also such of his staff officers as are absent from said review, to the brigade court of appeals of the third brigade; and each of said courts shall have power to remit such fines as may have been incurred by the said officers, respectively, for absence from said parade, under the same conditions as are prescribed by this article for other officers; and if any officer shall neglect or refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this section as required of him, he shall be fined a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, in the discretion of such court martial as the case may require.

672. If any general, whose duty it shall be to attend, shall refuse or neglect to attend any of the meetings appointed and prescribed by this article, he shall forfeit the sum of fifty dollars.

673. If any regimental field officer, or division or brigade staff officer, whose duty it shall be to attend, shall refuse or neglect to attend any of the said meetings, he shall forfeit the sum of twenty dollars.

674. If any company or regimental staff officer, whose duty it shall be to attend, shall refuse or neglect to attend any of said meetings, he shall forfeit the sum of five dollars.

675. If any non-commissioned officer, private or musician, whose duty it shall be to attend, shall refuse or neglect to attend any of said meetings, he shall forfeit the sum of two dollars.

676. The commanding officer of each regiment shall, within six days after each parade as directed by this article, appoint the court of appeals, which shall have power to remit the whole or part of such fine or fines as may have been incurred by such company officers, non-commissioned officers, privates and musicians of his regiment as were absent from such parade, upon its appearing to said court of appeals that sickness or some such sufficient excuse was the cause of such absence; Provided, that business is not admitted as a cause of acquittance.

677. The courts of appeal to decide upon the remission of fines incurred by company officers, non-commissioned officers,
