

such slaves as shall be found strolling about the streets at night, or frequenting the houses of other persons without the permission of their masters or overseers; and who shall, within the said village, have all the powers and perform all the duties of a constable.

60. The bailiff, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall make oath before a justice of the peace of Caroline county that he will faithfully and impartially perform the duties of bailiff and constable within said village, according to the best of his skill and judgment; and shall also give bond in the same penalty and to be in all respects liable, as the constable's bonds of said county, with good and sufficient securities, to be approved by the county commissioners, conditioned that he will well and faithfully execute the said office in all things appertaining thereto, and shall also well and truly account for all moneys placed in his hands for collection, and shall well and truly pay all sums of money received by him.

61. The said commissioners may pass such by-laws and ordinances as they shall deem necessary for the good government of said village and the inhabitants thereof; for the removal of nuisances; to prevent swine and geese going at large; and the opening, extension, repair and improvement of streets, lanes and alleys; and all damages done by opening and repairing any street, lane or alley, shall be determined and assessed by three disinterested persons appointed by the commissioners.

62. Each holder of real estate on Market street in said village, who has not already done so, shall, within ninety days after he shall be thereto required by the commissioners, pave with good brick in front of his premises on said street a width of sidewalk not less than six feet; and upon failure to do so the commissioners shall cause the same to be done, and the expenses shall be levied and collected as other taxes in said village, from the property in front of which such paving shall have been done.

63. The said commissioners shall cause to be made, and from time to time corrected, a register of the inhabitants of the village entitled to vote for commissioners.

64. They shall cause an assessment of the real and personal property within the village to be made between the second
