

at the expense of the corporation, and a copy thereof under the seal of the county commissioners shall be evidence.

71. The bailiff shall collect all taxes levied by the commissioners, and pay the same to the treasurer, and if any person shall refuse or neglect to pay any taxes, or any fines and forfeitures due by him, the bailiff may collect the same in the same manner as county taxes, and if there be any real or personal property in Denton the owner of which resides in another county, the commissioners may order the bailiff to sell so much thereof as will pay the sums due by such owner for taxes, fines or forfeitures; but before selling the property of any non-resident the bailiff shall call on the tenant, if any, on the property, to pay the taxes, fines, penalties or forfeitures due by the owner; and on his failure to pay the same the commissioners shall give notice in some newspaper, if any, printed in the county where the owner resides, at least three weeks before the day of sale, and at three public places in said county, of the time and place of sale.

72. The commissioners shall apply all money collected by them from taxes, fines, penalties and forfeitures to defray the expenses of regulating and improving the streets, lanes and alleys, pumps and wells in said village, in such manner as they shall deem most expedient, and to paying their clerk and the bailiff of said village such compensation as they may deem reasonable.

73. The public ground in Denton on which the market house and lodge house stand, and all the public ground between the market house and lodge house on Market street, and all the public ground between the market house and lodge house on Second street, and twenty feet of public ground immediately contiguous to the west side and north end of said market house and lodge house, is vested in said commissioners and their successors; Provided, the said commissioners and the officers of Washington Lodge shall not erect thereon any other than public buildings for the use of said village.

74. The members of Washington Lodge No. fifty-nine, and their successors, shall hold and enjoy the rooms erected by them over the market house, without any let or hindrance from any person whatever, and if at any time the said lodge shall cease to exist, the said commissioners may rent the rooms occupied as
