dering about the streets at night or frequenting the houses of other persons in said village, without the consent of their masters or owners.

110. All taxes, fines and forfeitures imposed by the commissioners of said village shall be collected by their bailiff in the same manner and by the same means as county taxes are collected by the collectors thereof, and shall be applied by the commissioners in regulating and improving the streets and village as the commissioners may direct.

111. The commissioners may allow their clerk and bailiff such reasonable compensation as they may deem proper.

112. The bailiff of said village may impound any geese or swine running at large in said village belonging to any person residing in Caroline county, and retain the same until the owner shall pay forty cents for every hog or half dozen geese, and a proportionate sum for every goose so impounded, one-half to the use of the bailiff and the other half to the commissioners; and if the owner of such swine or geese shall not, within three days after notice of their seizure, pay said sum to the bailiff, the said hogs or geese shall be forfeited; and the bailiff may sell the same after five days' notice, at public sale in said village, between the hours of nine and twelve o'clock, and apply the proceeds as before directed.

113. If any person shall by force take any swine or geese out of the possession of any person who has impounded them under the preceding section, without paying the sums therein mentioned, he shall forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars.

HILLSBOROUGH.

114. The citizens of the town of Hillsborough, in Caroline county, are a body corporate by the name of "The President and Commissioners of the town of Hillsborough," and by that name may sue and be sued, and may have and use a common seal.

115. The metes and bounds of the town of Hillsborough shall extend from the foot of Tuckahoe bridge along the meanderings of the creek until it intersects with Tillotson, the late Keen property lines, thence with the lines of said property until it inter-
