

192. When the levy aforesaid shall have been made, the trustees may appoint a collector to collect the taxes so levied, in the same manner and under the same laws that State and county taxes are collected; and said collector shall give sufficient bond to the trustees for the faithful performance of his duty, whose compensation shall be fixed by said trustees; the taxes when collected shall be paid over to the president of the board of trustees, at the time fixed by said trustees, by him to be applied to the payment of the expenses of carrying on said schools; and in case the collector shall fail or refuse to make the payment aforesaid, the trustees may proceed against said collector in the same manner that collectors are now proceeded against by law.

193. At the expiration of the term of service of the trustees herein specified, they, or a majority of them, shall hold an election in the same manner specified.

194. Where a primary school is now established, the trustees thereof shall have all the powers herein given to trustees elected under this article, and the trustees of school district number three may levy a tax for the use of said school district on the taxable inhabitants of said district not exceeding thirty-three and a third cents in the hundred dollars.

195. In all cases where a primary school has been organized, and trustees elected or appointed, in election districts number one and two, the Orphans' Court shall annually pay to the trustees of such primary school district such portion of the school fund as such school district may be entitled to.

196. In school districts where no primary free school is established, the portion of the school fund to which such districts are entitled shall be expended in the education of poor children under the direction of the commissioners of the free school fund as hereinbefore directed; all the funds to which election districts number three and four may be entitled shall be so expended by said commissioners.

197. The trustees of every primary free school shall report annually in December to the Orphans' Court the condition of the school, the number of children taught, and how the money received has been expended, which reports shall be filed and kept by the Register of Wills.
