

county commissioners; Provided, that the amount estimated and to be levied for the salary of officers and incidental expenses shall in no year exceed six hundred dollars.

134. The school commissioners shall apportion equally among the several school districts of the county the amount the county shall be entitled to receive from the State and the amount levied by the county commissioners.

135. The board of school commissioners shall prescribe rules and regulations for the management and government of said schools, setting forth the course of studies to be observed, the character and kind of books to be used, and the number of hours to be taught a day, and such other rules as they may think proper, and the treasurer of the school fund shall furnish each primary school teacher a copy of such rules and regulations.

136. Each teacher shall be required to make oath before a justice of the peace in said county that he has in the management of his school observed and fully complied with all the rules and regulations prescribed by the board of commissioners for the management and government of said schools, and with such other duties as are imposed by law upon said teachers; and the board of commissioners shall withhold payment from any teacher who refuses or neglects to make such oath.

137. Each primary school teacher shall furnish the school commissioners with a list of the names of the children of indigent parents attendant on his school unable to procure the necessary school books, and the school commissioners shall thereupon provide such necessary books for the use of said children, and shall keep an account of the sums so expended, and report the same annually to the county commissioners at the time for making the annual levy, and the county commissioners shall levy the same; Provided, such sum does not exceed six dollars annually for each primary school.

138. The school commissioners shall receive an adequate compensation for their services, not exceeding two dollars per day for each day they may be engaged in the discharge of their duties; but no school commissioner shall receive pay for more than ten days in any one year.
