

75. All firewood bought and sold, or offered for sale, in the said town, shall be set up on some common or other place, and corded and measured by one or both of the said wood corders, if either the purchaser or seller shall require the same to be done, and each cord of wood shall be eight feet in length, four feet in height and four feet in width, and well stored and closely packed, and for cording and measuring the same the said wood corder shall be entitled to six cents for each cord, one-half to be paid by the buyer and one-half by the seller.

76. All hay which shall be bought and sold, or offered for sale, in said town, shall be unpacked and weighed, if either the purchaser or seller shall require the same to be done, by one or both of the said weighers of hay, with proper weights, and scales, and the weigher shall be entitled to fifty cents for every ton, (which shall contain twenty gross hundred weight,) and in that proportion for every greater or smaller quantity, the one-half to be paid by the buyer and the other half by the seller.

77. No weigher of hay or corder of wood, either by himself or by any person in trust for him, shall buy, deal or barter for any hay or firewood on the way or brought to the said town for sale, except for the use and consumption of himself and cattle, under the penalty of seventy-five cents for every cord of firewood and four dollars for every ton of hay so purchased, dealt or bartered for.

78. If any person appointed to weigh hay and cord firewood shall refuse or delay to weigh the hay or cord the wood which he shall be required to weigh or cord either by the buyer or seller, he shall forfeit the sum of one dollar and fifty cents.

79. If any person having brought firewood or hay to said town for sale, and having sold the same, shall afterwards refuse to have such wood corded, packed and measured, or such hay to be unpacked and weighed, by the persons appointed for that purpose, the same being required to be done by the purchaser, he shall forfeit the sum of one dollar and a half.

80. No person shall keep any geese or swine within the said town except in pens or other enclosures, and, if any geese or swine shall be found going at large, (unless they be estrays belonging to any person not residing within the distance of two miles therefrom,) the bailiff of the town may distrain and seize and secure them in the common pound, and they shall be forfeited for the
