

135. They may regulate by ordinance the market in said town, appoint an inspector of said market, assign his duties, and allow him a reasonable salary; and may authorize him, under their control and direction, to rent out for the benefit of the corporation, the butchers' stalls in and the benches in and about said market house.

136. They may levy upon the taxable property in the said town, not exceeding twenty-five cents in the one hundred dollars, worth of property in any one year, which they may collect as county taxes are collected, or in any other mode they may by ordinance adopt, and apply the same when collected and all other moneys coming to their hands belonging to the corporation to the expenses of the corporation and other objects contemplated by this charter.

137. The mayor in virtue of his office shall have and exercise all the jurisdiction and powers of a justice of the peace, and shall be entitled to the same fee.

138. He shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, execute a bond to the State of Maryland, with two securities approved by the councilmen, or a majority of the same, in the penalty of five hundred dollars, conditioned for the payment to the treasurer of said corporation of all moneys arising from fines or other sources belonging to said corporation.

139. He shall once in three months make a report of and pay over all moneys in his hands due to said corporation, and upon failure, after being twice notified by the council to do so, the office of mayor shall be declared by said council to be vacant, and the council shall by appointment, from themselves, fill the vacancy for the remainder of his term.

140. The councilmen, or a majority of them, may put the bond of the mayor in suit for the recovery of any money belonging to the corporation which the mayor may have failed to account for and pay over.

141. The mayor and each councilman shall receive two dollars a day for every day the council may be in session, to be paid out of the funds of the corporation; but if the mayor and council are called upon to view and determine upon the limits or boundaries of any lot in said town, the party by whom they are called
