

109. If the citizens of any school district refuse or neglect to elect trustees, the board of primary education, at their first meeting after the time of said election, shall appoint four trustees for such district.

110. The trustees in each school district shall continue in office until their successors are elected or appointed.

111. In case of any vacancy in the board of trustees of any district, the remaining trustees shall have power to fill such vacancy until the next election.

112. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees of each district to ascertain and determine what scholars admitted into their school shall be entitled to the poor school fund, and they shall also have power to admit such other scholars as may be able to contribute to said school, upon such terms as they may determine, not exceeding one dollar per month.

113. They shall examine and ascertain the qualification of any teacher that may apply for employment in the school.

114. They shall visit each school once in every two months during the time it is in operation, to examine the scholars and see that the school is properly conducted in every respect, and shall adopt such rules and regulations for the government thereof as they may deem proper and necessary, and may dismiss the teachers whenever in their judgment the interest of the school requires it.

115. They shall make a true and full report annually to the board of primary education at their first meeting after the first day of June, of the whole number of children educated at their school the past year, the period each has gone, and the price paid for the tuition of each scholar, designating the proper subjects of the free school fund, and the condition of their district and the school house therein.

116. The board of primary education shall have power to alter and change the bounds of the several school districts, and to form the districts anew, by increasing or diminishing the number thereof, and to divide any one or more of the several districts into new districts, whenever it shall appear to them proper to do so.
