

There were 59 per cent of the white county schools, and 81 per cent of the colored schools in the counties which reported that they had active parent-teacher associations organized in 1933.

Maryland's school system is frequently visited and studied by other states and counties because of its plan for effective administration and supervision in a county unit system, and because of its method of distributing school funds on the basis of need through its Equalization Fund.

Board of Education—Baltimore City.

The public school system of Baltimore is separate and distinct from the school system of the State, is controlled by a board of nine members appointed by the Mayor of Baltimore, and not under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Education.
