The Board consists of three members appointed by the Court of Appeals for terms of three years, and a member of the Board is appointed annually.

The Court of Appeals prescribes rules for a uniform system of examinations in this state, both for registration and for admission to the Bar; and for fees to be paid by the applicant taking examination. All applicants for admission to the Bar are referred by the Court of Appeals, to which body application is made by petition, to the State Board of Law Examiners who shall examine the applicant testing his or her qualifications for admission to the Bar.

The Court of Appeals prescribes rules for a uniform system of examinations which govern the Board of Law Examiners in the performance of their duties. No one is examined who is not a citizen and who shall not have studied law in an approved law school in some part of the United States or in the office of a member of the Bar of this state for at least three years. On payment of one examination fee the applicant is entitled to the privilege of three examinations, but no more.

The Board reports its findings in the examination of applicants to the Court of Appeals, with any recommendation it decides to make. If the Court of Appeals then finds the applicant qualified to discharge the duties of an attorney, and to be of good moral character and worthy to be admitted, the said Court then passes an order admitting him or her to practice in all the courts of the state.
