The practice of medicine in Maryland is regulated by the Board of Medical Examiners, which consists of eight members appointed by the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty (State Medical Society), two being elected each year to serve for four-year terms. All members must be engaged in the actual practice of medicine (Code 1951, Art. 43, sec. 118).

The Board tests the fitness of physicians for the legal practice of medicine in this State and issues licenses to those qualified. The Board may revoke the license of any physician, who thereby forfeits the privilege of practicing medicine. Candidates for licenses applying to the Board must be graduates of medical schools approved by the American Medical Association and the Association of American Medical Colleges. Graduates of foreign medical schools must present diplomas from medical schools offering medical education equivalent to that given in approved medical schools of the United States. Each candidate from a foreign medical school is considered individually. The qualifications for practice are determined either by written examination given by the Board, by endorsement of other states' licenses obtained after written examination in a reciprocating state, or by endorsement of a certificate of the National Board of Medical Examiners. Examinations are held in June and December of each year.
