

I. COUNTIES

NOTE: The county officials are here divided into two groups, Judicial and Administrative. The administrative officials are listed according to the following functions: executive and legislative; fiscal; election; public safety; health, education, and welfare; planning, building, and inspection, if any; licensing; liquor control; and extension and soil conservation service.

Many counties have begun to outgrow the traditional county offices, and two counties, Montgomery (in 1948) and Baltimore (in 1956), have adopted charter governments with special departments and officers that perform functions formerly centered in the Board of County Commissioners. Even in these two counties, however, most of the traditional offices remain, and though many of them are not regulated by charter, they work side by side with the new departments. For this reason we have listed the officers of Montgomery and Baltimore counties, like those of other counties, according to function rather than according to the legal or administrative relationships their charters have created.

Methods of appointment and terms of office of the officials common to most of the counties are explained below. Such information about officers peculiar to any one county is given in footnotes. Unless otherwise indicated, all officers may be addressed at their respective county seats.
