

Southern Maryland Correctional Camp, Hughesville, Charles County
 Central Laundry Correctional Camp, Sykesville, Carroll County

The Department of Correctional Services operates the Maryland Correctional Camp Center and four Correctional Camps, which provide work and other rehabilitative facilities for the men transferred to these minimum security installations.

The Correctional Camps also house inmates who are participating in the Work Release Program.

Before assignment to a Correctional Camp, the inmates are carefully screened either at the Reception-Diagnostic and Classification Center or at the institutions to which they had been originally committed. These Camps were established by Chapter 266, Acts of 1955 (Code 1957, 1967 Repl. Vol., Art. 27, sec. 689f).

The Sandy Point Correctional Camp was relocated at the Maryland Correctional Camp Center and the name was changed from Sandy Point Correctional Camp to Maryland Correctional Camp Center by Chapter 385, Acts of 1966. The Maryland Correctional Camp Center functions as the administrative headquarters for the Correctional Camp system as a receiving and distributing point for the Correctional Camp system and as a Correctional Camp.

Four of these facilities (Maryland Correctional Camp Center, Eastern, Poplar Hill, and Southern Maryland) operate under one budget. Inmates assigned to these camps are employed on projects of the State Roads Commission, farming operations, and by other State departments and local governmental agencies.

The average (total) population of these Camps for fiscal year 1968 was 621.
