The Interagency Committee for Public School Construction was established under the "Rules, Regulations, and Procedures for the Administration of the School Construction Program" first adopted by the Board of Public Works on June 29, 1971 in accordance with Article 77, Section 130A, of the Public School Laws of Maryland.

Thereunder, the full responsibility for the State supervision of school construction activities was assigned to a tri-agency committee composed of the State Superintendent of Schools, the Secretary of the Department of State Planning, and the Secretary of the Department of General Services.

Thereafter, the committee is known as the Interagency Committee for School Construction with the State Superintendent of Schools serving as chairman.

Each of the three participating agencies furnishes staff to the committee, with the total staff numbering about 40. The Executive and Deputy Directors are appointed and work under the direction of the committee.

Each school system in the State submits to the Interagency Committee by October 1 of each year its capital improvement program for the following fiscal year, plus an updated continuing five year plan.

The committee either approves, defers, or modifies a school system's proposal in consultation with local school board staff. The committee submits a consolidated statewide capital improvement program, with recommendations to the Board of Public Works, which acts at a special public meeting in February. The bond authorization or loan responding to the approved allocations is made by the Maryland General Assembly.

The appropriations for the expense of administrative operations are included in the annual budgets of the Board of Public Works, the State Department of Education, the Department of State Planning, and the Department of General Services (Code 1957, 1975 Repl. Vol., Art. 77, secs. 124, 130, 130A).
