

Mental Hygiene, the Secretary of Human Resources, and the Superintendent of Education or their designees; one representative from each of the twenty-four local Children's Councils, and twelve appointed members. Of the members initially appointed twelve shall serve for a term of one year, twelve shall serve for a term of two years, and twelve shall serve for a term of three years. After the expiration of the initial terms, members are appointed for a term of three years. The Advisory Committee biennially reviews the operation of the Office to identify issues and priorities, and reports its findings to the Director.

Local Children's Councils exist in each county and in Baltimore City. Each Council is appointed by the chief executive officer of that subdivision and includes representatives of the local departments of health, education, social services and juvenile services, and members appointed at large. One-half of the members initially appointed serve for two-year terms; the remainder serve for three-year terms. After the expiration of the initial terms members are appointed for three-year terms. Within their jurisdictions, the Children's Councils examine programs, services, and plans for children; secure and analyze Departmental plans and budget requests affecting children's programs and services; review the use and availability of Federal funds; identify, document, and communicate the needs, resources, and priorities to the local chief executive and to the Director of the Office for Children and Youth; and provide public information on children's programs and services.

The Governor's Youth Advisory Council was created within the Department of Human Resources by Executive Order in 1971. It was transferred to the Office for Children and Youth by the Acting Governor in December 1978.

The Governor's Youth Advisory Council is charged with communicating to the Governor, the Legislature, and the citizenry of the State the concerns of Maryland youth on matters involving State programs, policies, and legislation that affect the young people of the State.

The delegates to the Council comprise 115 members between the ages of 13 and 22. One hundred are chosen at random by utilizing a formula that insures equitable distribution by age, race, sex, and geography. Fifteen are selected by direct appointment of the Governor.
