Morgan State College was organized in 1867 under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church as the Centenary Biblical Institute. In 1890 the school's name was changed to Morgan College in honor of Dr. Lyttleton Morgan, whose gift of a large sum of money enabled the school to offer academic work at the college level. The school remained under church jurisdiction until the State of Maryland purchased it in 1939.

By Chapter 550, Acts of 1975, Morgan State was granted university status. A public university, Morgan now includes the Schools of Business and Management, Urban Studies and Human Development, Education, Graduate Studies, and a College of Arts and Sciences.

The University is governed by an independent Board of Regents consisting of twelve members appointed by the Governor for six-year terms. By Chapter 538, Acts of 1976, a student in good standing at the University is appointed a member of the Board for a one-year term.

The University is fully accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the State Department of Education. It is also approved by the Regents of the University of the State of New York, the American Chemical Society, the American Medical Association, and the Maryland State Board of Public Accountancy.

The University, which consists of twenty-two departments, offers twenty-eight baccalaureate and twenty master's degree programs. The faculty, which approves of all academic programs, consists of 70 full professors, 87 associate professors, 102 assistant professors, and 45 instructors.

During the academic year 1979-80, 5,299 students were enrolled at Morgan. Of these, 3,899 were full-time students and 1,410 were part-time students (Code Education Article, secs. 13-201 through 13-204).

The Northeast Maryland Waste Disposal Authority was established as a public corporation by Chapter 871, Acts of 1980. The Authority is a coordinating agency and a financing vehicle that assists the participating political subdivisions of Maryland, other public entities, and the private sector of the economy in providing adequate waste disposal facilities and facilities for the generation of steam, electricity, or other forms of energy from fuels that are derived from or are otherwise related to waste disposal. Participating jurisdictions are Baltimore City, Baltimore County, Harford County, and Anne Arundel County. The Authority consists of one member from each of the participating jurisdictions, who is appointed by the Governor for a four-year term from lists of at least three names submitted by each participating jurisdiction. The director of the Maryland Environmental Service serves as an ex officio, voting member.
