JUVENILE SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

Rex C. Smith, Director

Robert G. Wolford, Acting Deputy Director

201 W. Preston St.
Baltimore 21201 Telephone: 383-3773

Created in 1966, the Department of Juvenile Services is the central coordinating administrative agency for juvenile investigation, probation, and after-care services and for State juvenile diagnostic, training, detention, and rehabilitation institutions (Chapter 126, Acts of 1966). It is known as the Juvenile Services Administration. The Director is appointed by the Governor upon the recommendation of the Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene. The Acting Deputy Director is appointed by the Director with the approval of the Secretary.

The Administration certifies for operation within the State the public and private institutions, organizations, and agencies that deal with the Department in the area of juvenile delinquency.

The Administration supervises two State training schools: Boys' Village of Maryland, and Maryland Training School for Boys. It develops and promulgates regulations, standards of care, and policies affecting their operation and management.

The Administration also supervises the State's four Youth Centers for delinquent boys: Backbone Mountain, Green Ridge, Maple Run, and Savage Mountain. These Centers were formerly known as Forestry Camps. Boys who can benefit from such care are transferred to the Centers from Boys' Village, Montrose School, and the Maryland Training School for Boys, and through direct commitment from various State courts and jurisdictions.

The Administration supervises intake, probation, and after-care post-institutional supervision and counseling staff to all juvenile courts. Probation and after-care are separate functions. Probation involves the supervision of youngsters who are adjudicated delinquent but not institutionalized. After-care includes the supervision and counseling of youngsters for a prescribed period of time after their release from an institution (Code Health-General Article, Title 6).
