

the Maryland Calendar of Events and an official Maryland State map. They are available free upon request.

Tour planners and operators receive comprehensive information from the Division about Maryland destinations and activities in the Maryland Tour Planners' Manual, published every other year.

In addition to conveying information by mail and telephone, the Division, through the Office of Tourist Development, operates a visitors' center and guide service at the Maryland State House in Annapolis, and eight highway information centers. The Division's matching funds and cooperative marketing programs strengthen and support county and regional travel promotion councils as well.

The Division also works with travel and outdoor writers to provide tours of Maryland, research and information, and photographs and transparencies.

Within the Division are the Office of Tourist Development, Maryland Magazine, the Motion Picture and Television Development Office, the Maryland State Arts Council, the Office of Sports Promotion, and the Sister States Program.

The Motion Picture and Television Development Office, also known as the Maryland Film Commission, was created in 1980 (Chapter 5, Acts of 1980). Formerly under the Department of Economic and Community Development, the Office became part of the Department of Economic and Employment Development in 1987 (Senate Bill no. 699). The Office promotes the production of motion picture and television films in Maryland.

The Office prepares and distributes materials promoting desirable film locations in the State. Providing a wide range of logistical assistance, the Office helps with location scouting, securing permits, casting, film crew housing, catering, and equipment rental.

The Advisory Council consists of twelve members representing both government and the State's television and movie industry. Ten are appointed by the Secretary of Economic and Employment Development with the approval of the Governor, and the advice and consent of the Senate. Two are General Assembly members, appointed by the Speaker of the House of Delegates and the President of the Senate (Code 1957, Art. 41A, sec. 4-301).
