

The Maryland Correctional Institution for Women—Jessup was originally established by Chapter 71, Acts of 1941, as the Women's Prison of the State of Maryland. By Chapter 520, Acts of 1945, it was renamed Maryland State Reformatory for Women. In 1962, it became the Maryland Institution for Women. Its present name was adopted in 1964.

Prior to the erection of this institution, women prisoners were lodged in a section of the Maryland House of Correction. Before the opening of the House of Correction in 1879, women had been housed in quarters reserved for them at the Maryland Penitentiary.

The Reception-Diagnostic Classification Center at the Institution receives all adult women who have been convicted of felonies and misdemeanors and sentenced to the jurisdiction of the State for terms of six months to life. Upon completion of classification procedures at the Center, women inmates are transferred to the proper Maryland correctional institution to complete their sentences.
