The Legislative Policy Committee originated in 1939 as the Legislative Council (Chapter 62, Acts of 1939). The Council was reorganized as the Legislative Policy Committee in 1976 (Chapter 362, Acts of 1976).

The Legislative Policy Committee coordinates and supervises the work of the standing committees of the General Assembly during the interim between sessions as well as during each session. The Committee studies the rules and procedures of the Senate and House, and appoints special committees and subcommittees to study any subject matter. It refers to the committees functioning during the interim any recommended subject matter it receives, holds hearings on any subject matter, and subpoenas witnesses and records as required. The Committee may prepare its own legislative recommendations, and may endorse a legislative program in the form of bills, resolutions, or other proposals to be submitted to the next regular session of the General Assembly.
