The Juvenile Services Agency originated as the Department of Juvenile Services in 1966 (Chapter 126, Acts of 1966). In 1969, as the Juvenile Services Administration, it was placed within the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (Chapter 77, Acts of 1969). Renamed the Juvenile Services Agency, it became an independent agency in 1987 (Chapter 290, Acts of 1987).

The Agency administers juvenile detention, investigation, probation, protective supervision, and after-care services and State juvenile diagnostic, training, detention, and rehabilitation institutions.

For all juvenile courts the Agency oversees the supervisory and counseling staff for intake, probation, and after-care. Probation and after-care are separate functions. Probation involves the supervision of youngsters who are adjudicated delinquent but not institutionalized. After-care includes the supervision and counseling of young people for a prescribed period of time after their release from an institution (Code 1957, Art. 83C, secs. 2-101 through 2-131).

The Agency certifies for operation within the State the public and private institutions, organizations, and agencies that deal with juvenile delinquency.

The Agency supervises the Charles H. Hickey, Jr. School, a State training school. The Agency also oversees four detention centers: Boys' Village of Maryland, J. DeWeese Carter Center, Alfred D. Noyes Children's Center, and Thomas J. S. Waxter Children's Center. In addition, the Agency supervises the seven Youth Centers for delinquent boys: Backbone Mountain, Doncaster, Green Ridge, Maple Run, Meadow Mountain, Savage Mountain, and Thomas R. O'Farrell.

The Agency is served by the State Advisory Board for Juvenile Services, the Maryland Professional Athletes Council, and the Charles H. Hickey, Jr. School Citizens' Advisory Committee.

The State Advisory Board for Juvenile Services was created in 1966 as the State Advisory Board of Juvenile Services (Chapter 126, Acts of 1966). In 1987, the Board received its present name (Chapter 290, Acts of 1987). The Board recommends to the Director of the Juvenile Services Agency policies and programs to improve State juvenile services. The Board helps plan development and use of resources and helps to inform the public of the work of the Agency.

The Board is comprised of eighteen members. Appointed by the Governor, they include representatives of the Juvenile Services Agency, the State Department of Education, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the Social Services Administration, the Maryland State Police, the General Assembly, the judiciary, and a child welfare agency. Seven members represent the public. Of these, three must be between the ages of sixteen and twenty-five and at least one must have been under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Services Agency. Members serve three-year terms. The Governor designates the chairperson (Code 1957, Art. 83C, secs. 2-106 through 2-110).
