

The Board of Regents may issue revenue bonds to finance the building of dormitories and other student housing facilities. The Regents issue such bonds directly, with the payments of principal and interest made from revenues realized from the use of the building.

The University's System Administration (UMSA) directs and coordinates the eleven-campus system. Located in Adelphi, UMSA includes the offices of the chancellor, the deputy chancellor, and the six vice-chancellors. UMSA is also responsible for the four major research and public service components: the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station; the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service; the Center for Environmental and Estuarine Studies; and the Maryland Biotechnology Institute as well as the Maryland Sea Grant College.

Campuses of the University are located in Baltimore (UMAB, Coppin State College and University of Baltimore); Bowie (Bowie State University); Catonsville (UMBC); College Park (UMCP); Frostburg (Frostburg State University); Princess Anne (UMES); Salisbury (Salisbury State University); and Towson (Towson State University). University College, from its headquarters in the Center of Adult Education at College Park, administers adult and continuing education courses and programs at sites across Maryland and in Europe and Asia. The University of Maryland System is developing an academic and research center at Shady Grove and also operates the Agricultural Experiment Station, Cooperative Extension Service, Maryland Biotechnology Institute, and Technology Extension Service Offices throughout the State.

Bowie State University evolved from the first school opened in Baltimore by the Baltimore Association for the Moral and Educational Improvement of Colored People in 1865. The school was reorganized in 1893 as the Baltimore Normal School for the training of teachers. In 1908, the General Assembly designated it as Normal School No. 3, a State institution (Chapter 599, Acts of 1908). After relocation to Prince George's County, the School by 1914 was known as the Maryland Normal and Industrial School at Bowie. It was renamed the Maryland Teachers College at Bowie in 1935 and Bowie State College in 1963. On July 1, 1988, the College became Bowie State University (Chapter 293, Acts of 1988).

Today, Bowie State University is a fully accredited liberal arts institution with over 3,000 students enrolled in diverse academic courses. Twenty-nine majors are offered, including master's degrees in computer science, management information systems, human resources development, Adlerian psychology, and administrative management. The University also offers an honors program, an Army
