Originally formed in 1971, the Maryland State Advisory Council on Vocational-Technical Education was reconstituted as the State Council on Vocational-Technical Education in 1985 (Chapter 4, Acts of 1985). The Council is an independent State agency. It reports to the Governor, the business community, and the general public on State policies to strengthen vocational education and encourage private sector initiatives in modernizing programs. The Council also advises the State Board of Education on developing State Plans for vocational-technical education. Prior to submission to the U.S. Secretary of Education, these State Plans and their amendments are reviewed and commented upon, for the record, by the Council.

The Council studies reports and makes recommendations to the State Board of Education on equal access to quality vocational-education programs, the availability of vocational-technical activities and services in Maryland, and the formation of technical committees. Similarly, it evaluates programs that emphasize the use of businesses and labor organizations; procedures that encourage local provision of vocational-technical education; and policies that strengthen these programs, particularly for the handicapped.

The Council also evaluates the distribution of all vocational education funds in Maryland; distribution of financial assistance between secondary and postsecondary programs; adult training, retraining, and employment development program designs; and industry/education partnerships for occupational training in high technology.

At least every two years, the Council reviews the vocational-technical education programs that receive aid from the federal Perkins Vocational Education Act and the Job Training Partnership Act and makes recommendations to the State Board of Education on their coordination. The Council also is required biennially to report those findings and recommendations to the Governor, the State Board of Education, the Governor's Employment and Training Council, the U.S. Secretary of Education, and the U.S. Secretary of Labor.

Appointed by the Governor, the Council consists of thirteen members who serve three-year terms (Code Education Article, secs. 21-101 through 21-106).
