On motion by Mr. Steiner, it was Ordered, That the unfeigned thanks of the Senate are hereby given to its President, the Honorable Henry Snyder, for the courteous, dignified and able manner in which he has presided over its deliberations during the present Session,

Which was adopted.

On motion by Mr. Williams,

The remarks of Mr. Steiner were ordered to be entered on the Journal.

REMARKS OF MR. STEINER.

The necessity of my political position obliged me to spoil the inaugural remarks of our worthy President at the opening of the present Session, but that same political position enables me to present the order just read, for the adoption and unanimous ratification of the Senate, and I do this with the greatest pleasure imaginable. Rarely has the Chair of a deliberative Body been graced by one, whose uniform courtesy, genial kindness of nature, and prompt attention
