

of the Constable to kill the dog, at the expense of the owner, for which he shall be entitled to receive four dollars, recoverable as for damages before any Justice of the Peace residing in the district in which the killing took place.

SEC. 192. And be it enacted, That the sum of two dollars be paid by the County Commissioners to any person who may kill or destroy, or cause to be killed or destroyed, any fox above the age of six months, as near as can be ascertained, within the limits of the aforesaid county; provided that before the killer of any fox in said county shall be entitled to the aforesaid compensation or reward, he, she or they shall present the brush or brushes of the fox or foxes so killed to any Justice of the Peace of said county, and make oath before him that the fox or foxes, the brush or brushes of which are so presented, were taken and killed within the limits of said county since the passage of this Act; and such person or persons shall deliver to said Justice said brush or brushes, who shall forthwith entirely destroy the same, and give to such person or persons a certificate for the same, showing the number of foxes killed by such person or persons, which said certificate shall be sufficient evidence for the County Commissioners of said county to pay the amount specified in said certificate; provided further, however, that no person or persons killing a fox pursued by hounds, attended by a huntsman or huntsmen other than such huntsman or huntsmen, shall be entitled to the aforesaid reward, and that the oath herein required shall conform to this proviso, and that the owner of the dog first mousing the fox shall be entitled to the compensation under this Act.

SEC. 193. And be it enacted, That the money collected under the provisions of this Act, shall be applied, first, to the payment of all necessary expenses attending the collection thereof, secondly, to the payment of such sums as may be required to carry the provisions of the proceeding section of this Act into effect, and thirdly, that so much of the residue as may have been collected from white persons, shall be paid to the Board of County School
