

INDEX TO THE CHANCERY LAWS.

CHANCERY. . . .	Session Ch. S.
A commission for any purpose, with the consent of parties and approbation of the chancellor, which may lawfully issue, to be directed to them, with power to any two,	1799 79 6
A power given to bring suits in equity against the state as therein mentioned,	— — — 7 — — — 8
Provision made for compelling an answer from defendants appearing agreeably to an order limiting a day therefor, or for proceeding without such answer,	— — — 9
Directions respecting property taken in execution on which an injunction has issued,	— — — 10
Where a peremptory injunction is decreed against the state, the chancellor may order the treasurer to cancel the bond,	— — — 11
In all cases of contracts by nonresidents or parties not known, or if dead who is heir, &c. if a bill is filed to compel a specific performance, the chancellor without the appearance of the party either takes the bill pro confesso or issues commission, &c. and may decree,	1804 107
— Notice to be given, &c. if an appearance in 18 months decree to be opened,	— — —
— Party may appear before decree, &c.	— — —
Chancellor may direct the sale of personal property of idiots, &c. if it appears beneficial to convert the same into money, and to place it at interest,	1790 60 2
— May order the property of idiots, &c. to be sold for their support,	1800 67 2
— May order the whole property, if it will not admit of division, to be sold, and to direct the manner of the application of the money,	— — — 3
— Sales to be notified and confirmed before conveyance,	— — — 4
— On the death of the lunatic, to whom the money is to belong,	— — — 5
The chancellor upon application, to send idiots, &c. to the hospital,	1813 21 1
— Shall have power to remove such idiot, &c.	— — — 2
Power of the chancellor to decree the sale of the equitable title on giving notice to the person having the legal title,	1795 88 2 — — — 3
A commission to take depositions may (with the consent of both parties) issue to one person instead of four,	— — — 4
Directions for notice and proceedings against the other heirs, where the person appears who would have been heir before the act to direct descents,	1797 114 2
— Against persons returned non est, and evading the sheriff,	— — — 3
Causes set down for hearing, or submitted, where there is a solicitor in court, shall not abate by the death of either party,	— — — 4
Directions for the serving of process on the attorney general where a bill is filed against the state,	1786 53 3
— Respecting injunctions prayed against the state,	— — — —
The chancellor may, on application of either party, in actions in the general court, or on bills in chancery, require and decree that the parties shall produce either the original books, &c. or certified copies, or being satisfied by oath that the said books or papers contain evidence pertinent to the issue, and that the party cannot safely go to trial without them,	1798 84
The chancellor may, when he has ordered the production of books, &c. on failure to produce them, take the allegations in the bill pro confesso,	1807 140
Where an injunction is obtained by executors or administrators on filing bonds as therein prescribed,	— — — —