MISCELLANEA

Roosevelt traveled to Yalta to discuss plans for peace with Churchill and Stalin. On his return he reported to Congress . . . "No one can say exactly how long any plan will last.

Peace can endure only so long as humanity really insists upon it, and is willing to work for it — and sacrifice for it." Soon after returning from Yalta, while resting at Warm Springs, Georgia, Roosevelt died at his desk on April 12, 1945.

*William J. McWilliams was actually the assistant to the Secretary of State, appointed to serve during the absence of Thomas Elmo Jones. Although he signed the record of the proceedings of the Electors meeting on December 18, 1944, as Secretary of State, he actually held that title for only two days — February 7 & 8, according to the Maryland Manual, 1979-1980.
