

computing the times for notices to be given under this article, Sundays shall be included, except when the day on which said notice should be given should happen to fall on Sunday, in which event the same shall be given on the Monday following; the day of giving the notice and the day of registration or election shall be excluded.

113. In all trials for offenses against any of the provisions of this article, or of any existing law relating to registration or elections, where such offense is punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary, the State and defense shall each be entitled to twenty peremptory challenges of jurors.

114. It shall be the duty of the Attorney-General, within three months after the adoption of this article, to prepare instructions and blank forms necessary for the use of the officers of registration and of election created by this article; and this article, with said forms and instructions so prepared, and with other provisions of the Constitution and laws touching the same matters and with a proper index thereto, shall be published by the Secretary of State, and shall be distributed by him to the supervisors of elections, in quantities sufficient to supply the judges of election and other officers requiring the same. The expense of printing shall be paid from the treasury of the State; and the sum of one thousand dollars per annum, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury for such printing, and for the employment of any necessary clerical help in preparing and attending to election business by this article assigned to the office of the Attorney-General and that of the Secretary of State. A price shall be fixed by the Secretary of State, at which copies may be furnished to purchasers.

114A. At least thirty days before every State election the Attorney-General shall prepare full instructions for the guidance of the voters of such election as to obtaining ballots, as to the manner of marking them and the method of gaining assistance, and as to obtaining new ballots in the place of those accidentally destroyed, with such other instructions as shall, in his opinion, be necessary and proper. Said instructions shall be furnished by the Secretary of State to the several Boards of Supervisors of Elections, who shall respectively cause the same, together with copies of sections 61, 62 and 63 of this article, to be printed in large, clear type, on separate cards, to be called "cards of instruction," and said boards of supervisors shall furnish twelve of the same with the ballots for use in each
