

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That the said County Commissioners shall provide for the payment of said road expenses by levying upon the assessable property of the county a tax sufficient to pay said expenses incurred as aforesaid for the opening, improving, repairs and construction of the public roads; and each Commissioner shall, after examination of the public roads in his respective district and over which he shall have control, submit to the Board the amount deemed necessary to build and repair the roads and bridges of the same; provided, the tax imposed for the same shall not exceed twenty cents in every hundred dollars of the assessable basis of the county; and in the event one of the districts shall not be represented in the Board of County Commissioners, the said Board shall collect such information from the taxpayers of that district as they may deem satisfactory and make their levy according; when, however, any public road shall be the dividing line between two or more election districts, the expenses incurred for opening, repairing or construction of said road or bridges upon the same, the cost shall be equally borne by the two districts.

Levying of taxes to pay expenses.

SEC. 5. And be it enacted, That the County Commissioners shall at their first meeting in April, beginning with the year 1905, and each alternate year thereafter, appoint for each election district one supervisor who shall serve for two years, or until his successor is duly appointed and qualified, who shall have charge and control of the laborers employed in working upon the roads, and he shall keep an accurate account of the hour in which each laborer begins his work and the number of hours he is employed therein each day, and he shall be present the entire time directing and assisting therein; and at every monthly meeting of the County Commissioners he shall submit to said Board the account required by the Commissioners, and make oath, administered by one of the Board, that said account is a true statement of the number of hours each laborer was engaged in active work on the roads during the preceding month, and that he was present with the laborers during that time; and if said supervisor is compelled to be absent during that time he shall state the number of hours he was so absent, with reasons for such absence; and if any such account so produced shall contain any false statement, or if said supervisor shall fail to perform his duties herein required of him to the satisfaction of said Board of County Commissioners, he may at once be dismissed from his position by the said Board, and forfeit all pay due him for his services as road supervisor.

Appointment of supervisors.

Dismissal and forfeiture of pay.