

Maryland Hospital to recapitulate here the statements which have been already submitted, nor to vindicate themselves from charges that have been made against them. But it is their duty to state, in the clearest way, that unless the Legislature will at this time provide the means to meet the present claims against the Institution, and for its future support, the property will, in all probability, be sold under execution to meet the demands of creditors, before the session of your Honorable Body in 1876; and it will become the duty of the Board of Visitors to close their official relations, by providing for the pay patients, by removing them to Institutions that may be willing to receive them, and returning the pauper class to the counties from which they came.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

R. S. STEUART,

President.
