CHAPTER 31.

A supplement to an act, entitled, An act for the widening of certain streets near the Washington Monument in the city of Baltimore, and for other purposes therein mentioned. Passed Jan. 25, 1832

WHEREAS, the commissioners appointed by the act to which this is a supplement, have represented to this General Assembly, that it would be for the public advantage, and for the benefit of all the owners of property interested, to extend Charles street or Washington Place, to be of the width of one hundred and fifty feet, from Centre street to Madison street, and have, with the assent and approbation of all the proprietors of ground, and the guardians of minors interested, recommended the passage of an act to authorise such extensions—Therefore, Preamble.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland; That Charles street or Washington Place, be further extended to the width of one hundred and fifty feet from Madison street to a point sixty feet south therefrom, and also from Centre street to a point ninety feet north from the same, as if the original powers granted to the said commissioners by the act to which this is a supplement, had authorised such extension and widening. Street extended.
