

CHAP. 258.Assessment for 1832 to 1833.

tor named therein, under such penalty as the said commissioners shall deem necessary.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That the school commissioners aforesaid shall cause a general assessment of the property and income, subject to the said school tax, to be made in the said district, within the year eighteen hundred and thirty-two, or early in the year eighteen hundred and thirty-three; and the said commissioners may, and shall correct any errors and omissions, made or occurring in any assessment, made or to be made, before or after the passage of this act; and for this purpose they shall authorise the collector of the said school tax in said district, to act as an assessor in every case of neglect or complaint, and he shall report to them what additions or changes should in his opinion be made, and which, if approved by the said commissioners shall be made accordingly, but not otherwise.

Levy in mean time

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That until the school commissioners aforesaid, shall have caused the general assessment, herein before authorised to be completed: the tax for the support of public free schools in said district shall be levied and collected, under the direction of the said school commissioners, on property and income, according to the ratio prescribed by the laws heretofore passed, for the purpose of establishing and supporting said schools; but, the assessor who shall be appointed to make the general assessment above mentioned, and every person who shall be subsequently appointed to assess property or income in said district, for the said purpose, shall assess all the property lying and being therein, at its actual value; and rate every adult white male inhabitants of said district as possessing an income, estimated as nearly as may be, at the sum of his actual earnings; Provided however, That no person shall be rated as possessing a less income than fifty dollars, nor a greater income than five hundred dollars per annum; And provided further, That the tax which may be thereafter levied and collected by the school commissioners aforesaid, shall not in any year exceed the rate of one dollar per hundred, on income, and one dollar per thousand, on property assessed as aforesaid; and that no tax shall be levied on the property of any person, who is not assessed as owning property of the value of at least two hundred dollars.

Directions in assessing hereafter.

Limitations.

Proviso.

Monies to be deposited.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That the funds raised for the support of said schools, as they are received by the collector or collectors, who shall be appointed by the said school commissioners, shall be, by the said collector or collectors, deposited monthly in some incorporated bank designated as aforesaid, to the credit of the said school com-