

I commend to your careful consideration the various statements and exhibits which follow in this Report. I believe it will be helpful to you if you will first look over the Table of Contents, which precedes this letter of transmittal, and familiarize yourselves with the various statements in the Report, as a reading of this Table of Contents will doubtless suggest to you certain matters in the State's finances that you will probably want to know something about and it will be possible for you to turn to the proper statement and page in the Report without having to leaf through the Report to locate some of the information you will want. Our office will be glad at all times to have you contact it for any explanation you might want of the information which is in the Report or supply other information you may want which is not included in the Report.

Respectfully submitted,
J. MILLARD TAWES,
Comptroller.
